Austria and Russia Strengthen Their Border Forces

RIVALS ON DEFENSIVE

Two Great Powers Said to be Rapidly Mobilizing Armies for Border Protection

CONTINUE PEACE ARBITRATION

LONDON, NOV. 23.—Interest in the war situation shifted today from the belligerents, whose delegates are preparing to meet with an apparent sincere desire to work out the terms for a truce, to the great neighboring powers, Austria and Russia.

These titanic rivals are strengthening their border forces at an hour when the stepsmen of all the powers are spreading broadcast assurances that their only policy is to subordinate rivalries and interests to the common welfare of Europe in the country of peace. Threatening factors are known that have not existed since the beginning of the war.

When the crisis over Bosnia and Herzegovina arose, both Russia and Austria came nearer to a war footing than they seem to be now; yet the war cloud drifted away. Reports of the Russian mobilization are published in the Vienna Reichspost, the organ of the heir to the throne, specify that all the military districts on the frontier Vlna, Warsaw, Kiev and Odessa as well as Moscow, are to adopt a war footing, the Don Cossaks are to be pushed to the border, and the preparations in Russian Poland, include the dispatch of a large number of trains with troops and munitions toward the Austrian line.

Three Berlin papers purport to have information of the Austrian preparations which include the mobilization of three army corps for the Russian frontier and re-inforcements for Bosnia while from Prague an account is telegraphed of German military activity. Such warlike preparations coupled with the visits of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, crown prince of Austria-Hungary, to the German emperor, and the conference with the Austrian chief of staff, Field Marshal Von Schemm, had yesterday with Lient. General Count Von Moltke, chief of the German general staff, naturally excites acute curiosity. Additional announcement that Austria has mobilized correspondents by a rigid censorship adds fuel to the flames. But this may mean that instead of concealing the facts the government proposes to choke off sensational messages capable of working harm.

Despatches from Frankfurt and Berlin tonight place a peaceful construction on the archduke's journey to Berlin. They say his mission was to induce the emperor to mediate between Austria and Russia.

Mutual diplomacy of the part of the respective administrations at Constantinople and Sofia gives promise that the meeting of the plenipotentiaries which is expected to take place outside of Thessalonika Monday, will prove successful. Turkey has appointed three additional delegates but has stipulated that the Balkan states must modify their first conditions as a ground work for the meeting. Sofia has met this advance promptly.

Ingratulating statements declare that Bulgaria is willing that the Turks should retain the Thessalonika lines, which should satisfy both parties since it saves Turkish pride the ignominy of a march into the capital, while it shields Bulgaria from the Russian official displeasure which her entry into Constantinople would cause, and also waives the doubtful gain of sending an army through a cholera infested belt.

The allies are willing to grant another concession, in the matter of Adrianople. Although insisting upon surrender of the citadel they will permit the garrison to retire with the honors of war.

The crucial difficulties it is believed will come afterwards, when attempts to negotiate a treaty of peace are undertaken. Then, satisfaction of the interests of the powers and the division of spoils among the allies will be critical factors. The peoples of the Balkan states are not students of European diplomacy. They have gained immense confidence by the strength of their armies and concessions to the greater nations which their statesmen may think necessary may kindle dangerous troubles at home. The claims of Bulgaria and Greece over Salonika are already a cause of contention. An historic feature of the war is the complete downfall of the Young Turks party, whose friends hailed its rise as a power which would lift Turkey to the plane of the European nations.

Two hundred members of the committee of union and progress have already been arrested and many of them sentenced on charges of high treason. Instead of reforming Abdul Hamid's army the party is charged with the responsibility for its downfall. Beyond the matter of organization there appears to be the old story of grafting officers allied with corrupt contractors.

SOCIALIST PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE ARRESTED ON FEDERAL INDICTMENT

Debs and Others Are Arrested Charged With the "Obstruction of Justice by Inducing Witnesses to Leave the Country."

Fort Scott, Kan., Nov. 23.—On a federal indictment returned here against Eugene W. Debs, Socialist candidate for president, Fred W. Warren, editor of the Appeal to Reason, a Socialist newspaper published at Girard, Kan., and J. J. Shepherd, Warren's attorney, Warren and Shepherd were arrested here today. The indictment charged "obstruction of justice by inducing witnesses to leave the country."

Warren and Shepherd were released on $1,000 bond each. Debs, Warren and Shepherd were cited for contempt by the federal court in Topeka three months ago on the same charge which led to today's arrests. They were discharged at that time by Judge Pollock. At the hearing of the contempt case J. P. McDonough of Kansas City, formerly a prisoner in the Leavenworth penitentiary was a government witness. He testified that the defendants had paid him $200 to go to California and not testify in the misuse of the mails case. The defendants admitted payment of the money but said it was to discharge a debt.

CECELIA FARLEY GIVEN RELEASE

GIRL IS ACQUITTED OF ZOLLINGER'S
DEATH BY JURY

Jury Returns Verdict After Three Hours Deliberation—Miss Farley Announces That She Will Wed at Once and Move to California.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 23.—Miss Cecelia Farley, the pretty young state house stenographer who, for two weeks, has been on trial for first degree murder for the shooting of Alvin E. Zollinger, an advertising solicitor in a city park last May, was acquitted today after the jury had been out for three and a half hours.

Immediately following the announcement of the verdict of the jury, Miss Farley stated that she and Jerome Quigley, the hotel clerk who figured prominently in the case, will be married at once, and will go to Los Angeles, Cal., with Miss Farley's parents to make their home.

As soon as the verdict was read, Miss Farley jumped from her seat and ran to the jury box, where she shook hands with each of the jurors. The large crowd in the court room greeted the verdict with a shout of approval which could be heard all over the court house. Scores of women spectators crowded about Miss Farley and insisted upon kissing her.

During the three hours the jury was out, Miss Farley remained with her mother and intimate friends in the witness room. She seemed hopeful that the verdict would be favorable. The stenographer's mother was nervous, and although smiling, tears shown in her eyes when the verdict of acquittal was announced.

Jerome Quigley was not in the court room to receive the news and was informed by his friends at his home.

GOMPERS ELECTED BY BIG MAJORITY

IS AGAIN HONORED BY AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR

Haywood, Leader of Industrial Workers and Barnes, Socialist Campaign Manager, Engage in Fist Fight.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., NOV. 23.—A fist encounter between William D. Haywood, a leader of the Industrial Workers of the World and J. Mahlon Barnes, who was national campaign manager of the recent Socialist campaign following a dispute over the course each had pursued in the convention, took place tonight in the lobby of Convention hall while the American Federation of Labor was holding its final session. Haywood and Barnes met just outside a door to the auditorium. She door was open and President Gompers on the platform, saw Haywood strike Barnes.

"A delegate to this convention has been assaulted by 'Big Jim' Haywood," shouted President Gompers. "Delegates will keep their seats and the sergeant-at-arms will move the disturber."

Haywood ran into the street followed by several delegates. He took refuge in a laundry and later was taken to police headquarters but Barnes declined to make a charge against him and he was not held.

President Gompers after being re-elected said:

"If the American Federation of Labor makes any change, 'condemning' in conflict with the life-long principles for which I have fought I shall go along as a union man but you will have to choose another president."

John Mitchell speaking after his re-election as a vice-president said that if the contempt case against President Gompers, Secretary Morrison and himself had been settled he would not have accepted the position and that if it is settled before next year he will retire from active leadership. He did not give a reason for this decision.

A resolution opposing the pensioning of ex-presidents of the United States, ex-college presidents and ex-professors of political economy by private citizens was unanimously adopted.

Samuel Gompers was re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor this afternoon over Max Hayes of the International Typographical union. The vote was: Gompers, 11,974; Hayes, 5,075.

It was the first time in 17 years that there had been opposition to Mr. Gompers who has been re-elected annually since 1894. All other officers were re-elected. The convention defeated the United Mine Worker's resolution calling for future elections by a referendum vote of the federation's 2,000,000 members.

Seattle, Washington was chosen as the 1913 meeting place.

Richmond and Indianapolis also wanted the convention.

In the election the contest over the third vice-presidency. James O'Connell the incumbent, a member of the machinists' union defeated William H. Johnston, president of the International Brotherhood of Machinists by 10,859 to 6,175.

STRIKE LEADERS MAKE STRONG PLEAS FOR LIFE

PRISONERS ON TRIAL FOR GIRL'S
DEATH SPEAK IN COURT

Etter and Giovannitti Are Allowed to Speak for Themselves and Comrade as Trial Comes to Close—Both Speak Eloquently.

SALEM, MASS., NOV. 23.—"If you think us guilty of murdering our sister, give us death. History will record our end. We will go to a higher judgment seat and millions of workers will take up our flag of labor when we drop in the ditch." That in substance was the closing theme of two of the most remarkable pleas ever heard in a court room when Joseph J. Etter and Arturo Giovannitti, leaders in the textile strike at Lawrence last winter, rose today in the Essex county court to speak for themselves and their comrade, Joseph Caruso, accused of the murder of Anna Lopizzo who fell victim of an assassin's bullet in a strike riot last January.

Etter analyzed his case declaring that he had been tried not upon his acts but upon his views. He protested innocence of murder or inciting to riot, not only for himself but for his comrades. He urged that if the jury thought them guilty they should be given the death penalty, not shut up in prison where they could not continue their work for the betterment of the working class and ultimate attainment of their ideal a condition where laborers would earn all the profit of their labor. He pictured the cross, the gallows and the electric chair as a righteous cause, and ended in a plea for "simple justice."

As Etter sat down scores of women were weeping. Even men were in tears, among them leaders associated with the defendants in the Lawrence strike.

Then Giovannitti rose from his place beside his comrade. His face seemed swollen with emotion, his eyes welting with tears. He did not discuss the evidence but what he called "the preposterousness of the idea" that such as he and his comrades could have been guilty of a mercurious thought. He told his life story, his ambition, his seizure upon human life and ended with a tearful plea. Life was sweet, he said, a mother loved him, a wife loved him and he had ideals that he loved. He felt the passion of living and did not want to die a martyr but to live for the betterment of men. If he could live, he would go on as he had been doing. If he had to die, to look solace in the thought that he would go to a higher judgment seat.

There was a hush over the court room as Giovannitti sat down. Not a man or woman moved for several tense moments. Then Judge Quinn announced he would deliver his charge to the jury Monday.

The prisoners were driven back to jail through streets lined with their friends and followers who cheered them loudly as they passed.

TRIAL OF LABOR MEN PROVES SENSATIONAL

ACTION IS RAPID IN "DYNAMITE CONSPIRACY" HEARING YESTERDAY

Hockin is Imprisoned in Default of Increased Bond—Attorney Denounces Woman as "Anarchist"—Defense Disavows Article Published in Union Magazine—Engineer's Statement of His Dealings With Hockin.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., NOV. 23.—Imprisonment of Herbert S. Hockin, one of the chief defendants in the default of an increased bond, which was required by the court "because he had deceived everyone," the denouncing by the district attorney of a woman writer in the court room as an "anarchist" and a repudiation of the acts of the defendants were among sensational incidents at the "dynamite conspiracy trial" today.

Hockin was declared to have been in the employ of detectives soon after the Los Angeles Times explosion. He was also accused of having told a witness of overhearing John J. McNamara talk to President Lynch of the International Typographical union about "an explosion on the Pacific coast."

Kern was among the counsel for the defense who disavowed an article published by some of the defendants. The 45 men accused by the government of complicity in the McNamara dynamite plots by abetting for four or five years in the illegal transportation of explosives, sat in silence while the testimony and the action of the court brought unexpected changes. The developments of the day were:

Hockin's Bail Is Doubled.

Herbert S. Hockin, secretary and treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was taken to jail in default of his being unable to increase his $10,000 bond to $20,000, ordered by the court after a witness said he was in the employ of a detective and had been since soon after the Los Angeles Times explosion and "was not to be trusted day or night by anyone."

Hockin is the successor of J. J. McNamara, the dynamite, as an official of the union and is regarded as one of the principal defendants. Miss Mary Field of New York was branded by District Attorney Miller as an "anarchist who ought to be excluded from the court room," for certain articles she published concerning the trial in the Union Magazine.

"Contempt of Court."

All of the officials of the union now on trial including Frank M. Ryan, the president; J. J. Butler, Buffalo, vice president; M. J. Young, Boston, and P. A. Cooley, New Orleans, were denounced for publishing what the court said was "an outrageous contempt of court." Referring to Miss Field, Judge Anderson said he hoped she would not appear here again. Judge Anderson added:

"You notice, I say I hope she will not appear here again," Judge Anderson added.

Federal Judge Albert B. Anderson stated that as it was Saturday night he would not be inclined to increase the bonds of the last named defendant, although he "would not act on the motion at this date."

No sooner had the court spoken that Senator Kern and William N. Harding, among the attorneys for the defense, arose and said they had not been consulted about publishing the article, criticising the trial, and that they disavowed the sentiments expressed in the article.

Pointing toward the table where sat about ten attorneys for the defense, Judge Anderson said he "in mind certain persons who represented themselves to be attorneys, and if I learn to be true things which I have heard the attorneys say, the arm of the law will deal heavily with them."

Concerning Miss Field, who has been present in the court room for several weeks, District Attorney Charles W. Miller said she had often been seen in the company of the defendant, Olaf A. Tveitmo, of San Francisco, who conducted the same sort of a publication as that which published Miss Field's article.

Jewel's Testimony Interesting.

Lindsay L. Jewel, now an engineer on the Panama Canal, had testified that in August, the month before the Los Angeles Times explosion, Hockin had been giving information about the dynamite that soon after the explosion there Hockin worked directly with William J. Burns, a detective to whom he described fully just who the dynamiters were, that Hockin while still an official of the union, worked for pay in trailing the dynamiters about the country with Burns four months before the arrests were made and that Hockin had said he overheard a conversation between J. J. McNamara and President Lynch of the International Typographical union, about a proposed explosion on the Pacific coast.

The court's action in increasing Hockin's bond and in denouncing certain of the defendants for publishing articles in criticism of the trial came after the jury had retired for the day. An extract from Miss Field's article to which District Attorney Miller referred as typical, was:

"On the sixth of October these 45 defendants walked into court and pleaded 'not guilty' to the charges in the face of trial, a trial in which money, prestige, power, was the prosecutor of want and obscurity. A trial in which the steel trust masqueraded as the government."

The magazine had published this a few days ago and was circulated in the court room.

Besides Senator Kern, other attorneys for the defense who disavowed the article, were Chester Krum, St. Louis; M. C. Tift, Minneapolis, and Walter L. Ball, Muncie, Ind. Hockin, asking permission to make a statement, said:

"Miss Field's article was published in the magazine without its having been read by the officers." He declared he did not know it contained anything in contempt of court.

Mr. Jewel's testimony was one of the unexpected incidents of the day. He formerly was connected with a steel constructing firm in Pittsburgh and in 1911 went to Panama as an engineer.

Mr. Jewel testified that in the summer of 1910 before the Los Angeles explosion, Hockin came to his office in Pittsburgh and offered to give information about nitro-glycerin hidden in an old cooper shop near Rochester, Pa. He said it was intended to use the explosive to destroy the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie bridge near Beaver, Pa., under a loaded passenger train. Witness said he went to the house with Hockin and found 52 quarts of nitro-glycerin under the floor.

The next day Jewel said he informed General Manager Yohe of the railroad company about the plot and he immediately sent Edward F. Wendt, his engineer to take away the explosive.

In September, 1910, Jewel received a telephone call from Hockin saying something about to happen at Peoria, Ill. Jewel said he tipped off the information to the general manager of a railroad at Peoria. An explosion did occur at Peoria, Sept. 4.

Jewel said that ten days after the Los Angeles explosion he went to Detroit to see Hockin and they talked about the Los Angeles affair.

Implicates President Lynch.

"Then," continued Jewel, "he said James B. McNamara pulled off the Los Angeles Times explosion and was to stop on the Kansas City on the way back and cause an explosion there. Hockin related a conversation he said he overheard between John J. McNamara and President Lynch of the International Typographical Union."

Desiring to learn where the origin of the scheme to destroy the Los Angeles Times, Jewel said he questioned Hockin, who declared the iron workers' union had no interest in it, but that "McNamara had taken it up just for the money he would get out of it."

Telling of the alleged conversation between Lynch and McNamara, Hockin, according to Jewel, said the two "met in the lobby of a hotel in Indianapolis," and that McNamara asked Lynch, he said, "Lynch who, he said, don't you fellows pull something off out on the coast?" And that Lynch made some reply that was inaudible and McNamara then said, "Well, I can give you a man that has got the nerve, if you can get the money," and they (Lynch and McNamara) walked away together

REAL NEED CONFRONTS THE WOMAN'S COLLEGE.

Illinois Woman's college to maintain its rank as a college must have $100,000 by June 1. This is not a rise to secure a basis of appeal. It is an order issued by the highest educational authority of the great Methodist church. It applies to every Methodist institution which is of college rank and desires to remain in this class. A crisis in the life of the college exists and the institution must not take a backward step by being forced to withdraw from the college class. The campaign to raise money for the college here in Jacksonville will be on in earnest within a few days. The college authorities believe that $60,000, one-third of the sum necessary, should be raised in Jacksonville. They are confident that $120,000 can be secured outside of Jacksonville.

Just now it is a Jacksonville movement and every citizen will be asked to do what he can to help the college. The raising of this fund will have no effect whatever on the salary of Dr. Harker or of anyone else connected with college. It will mean, however, that the earnings of the endowment each year will be applied in building up the college and broadening its work. The money will be an aid toward bringing to pass the standard that Dr. Harker has set for the college, "A Thousand Students Instead of Four Hundred."

Looking at the matter merely from the viewpoint of dollars and cents to Jacksonville think of the following figures. The expenses for supplies mentioned are for the last college year and the payroll figures are for this year.

Amount paid for meat and poultry	$ 4,655.74
Amount paid for milk, butter and eggs	3,507.80
Amount paid for groceries	8,942.93

NORMAL LOSES TO ILL. COLLEGE

WERE TAKEN INTO CAMP BY A SCORE OF 22 TO 0.

Jacksonville Men Showed More Gincer and Outplayed Visitors After First Quarter—Tandy Makes Two Pretty Drop Kicks and Sorrells Stars at Left Half.

The "sure victory," which the State Normal school had figured out in their football game Saturday afternoon on Illinois field, against Illinois college, turned to a decisive defeat, the score being 22 to 0. The supposed weak Illinois team turned out to be a strong opponent and if Illinois had discovered sooner, Normal's weak spots than it was. Tandy's two drop kicks were features of the contest and Sorrells work was a revelation to the small crowd who witnessed the contest. Courtright was easily the star of the visitors and Capt. Smith was a good ground-gainer for the Normalites.

It was really the first time that Illinois played like a regular college team and the manner in which they worked together is certainly complimentary to Coach Harmon, whose training has improved the squad seventy-five per cent. What appeared to be a strong line in Normal was ploughed through at will by Illinois and the visitors displayed great weakness in defending end runs. Only twice did Normal threaten Illinois' goal and each time the locals played like tigers. With the much greater weight of Normal, they should have held Illinois to a low score, but the "pep" that Harmon's eleven displayed proved a stumbling block to Normal and subsequently their downfall. The game was characterized by good will on both sides and only a few minutes were taken out for minor hurts. All eyes are now centered on the big game Thanksgiving day when the fast aggregation from Lincoln college comes here. The alumni of the college ought to boost that game by their attendance.

First Half.

The game started with Tandy of Illinois kicking off to Normal, Wheeler receiving the ball. Conser and Benjamin carried the ball for good gains. A forward pass to Moore gained the visitors 30 yards. Capt. Smith made another gain of five yards. A forward pass by the visitors was caught by Stewart, who was almost downed in his tracks. A play by Sorrells and two by Alford netted about 15 yards for Illinois.

The local's attempt to make their gains failed. Courtright circled the ball for a gain of 10 yards and a forward pass to Moore added another seven yards. Illinois held the visitors for downs. Sorrells got into the game in earnest and went through the line for a 7 yard gain and encircled the end for a similar gain. Alford added another 5 yards by an end run and a fumble gave Normal the ball. Courtright was handed the ball for a 6 yard gain and a forward pass to Benjamin netted the visitors another 15 yard gain. Illinois blocked a punt by Bloomington on the 15 yard line when the quarter ended.

When playing was resumed Courtright attempted a goal kick from the 28 yard line, but the ball went wild. Stewart returned the kick and sent the ball from the danger line. Bloomington attempted a forward pass which was caught by Tandy. Sorrells was sent through the line for a 7 yard gain and he followed it up by an end run of 12 yards. Normal secured ball on a fumble. Benjamin bucked the line for a five yard gain and Alford nabbed the ball when Normal attempted a forward pass. Stewart and Sorrells made gains of several yards when Illinois fumbled but the ball was recovered. Sorrells was sent through the line for another good substantial gain and when on the 20 yard line Tandy was pulled back and made a pretty drop kick, netting the locals their first 3 points.

Tandy kicked off, Benjamin returning the sphere some ten yards. A forward pass made to Capt. Smith was incomplete and before the ball could again be put in play the second quarter ended.

Second Half.

In the second half Normal made some changes. Todd went to right guard and Farrell to right tackle while Petty was taken out. Normal trusted to Courtright's toe in the kick-off, the ball only going a short distance and was received by Tandy. Stewart made an end run of 6 yards and followed it up with a punt, which went over the goal line but a Bloomington man touched the ball and after it was over the line rolled with it, making a safety for Illinois and counting them two more points. The ball was taken out on the 20 yard line with Normal in possession of the oval. Capt. Smith was thrown for a loss. Courtright punted, Alford returning the punt. Tandy attempted a drop kick from the 36 yard line but failed.

Bloomington shot Touser through the line for a small gain, when the visitors punted only a short distance. Alford made a consistent gain around the end and Sorrells followed it up by a 15 yard run. The Illinois men at this point began to play with a vengeance. Furr made a 6 yard gain through center and by a succession of end runs and line bucks Sorrells was shot across for the first touch down, Tandy kicking goal, making the score 12 to 0.

Again Tandy kicked off to Courtright and in a forward pass Tandy caught the ball. Gains were made by Furr and Alford. Coach Harmon at this point sent in Gary to relieve Stewart and the team worked the ball to the third ended. Goal were changed. In again Sorrells took his old place. In the second attempt Sorrells made a stubborn fight for a touchdown. Tandy made a perfect kick, making the score 19 to 0.

Courtright kicked off for Normal, the ball reaching almost to the goal post. Furr returned the oval 15 yards. Capt. Smith sent in Graham to relieve Hargitt. Tandy punted for Illinois. Smith brought it back 6 yards by an end run and a forward pass netted them 12 more yards. Bowyer was sent through center. Illinois held the visitors for downs. Alford gains 10 yards and Jacksonville fumbles. Gary made stubborn center rush of 8 yards. Sorrells and Alford were then given the oval alternately and the Illinois men went down the field at a good clip. With only 11 seconds yet to play Tandy moved back on the 25 yard line and made another pretty drop kick, the score being 22 to 0. The ball was booted again by Tandy, when the whistle blew.

AT MAPLE GROVE.

Box Social and Literary Program Attracted Large Company.

Friday evening a box social and literary program was given by the pupils of Maple Grove school and a large crowd was present. Over forty lovely boxes were brought, many of them real works of art. Though the house was jammed, the heartless young men did not rally to the support of the fair ones and the boxes sold at a figure far below their actual value. The highest box sold brought $2.20 and was owned by Miss Maud Trible. A neat prize was offered for the most beautiful box and the committee awarded the same to Miss Anna Berry of South Jacksonville. J. E. Hofmann was the auctioneer and did his part well.

The program was excellent and Mr. Reid and Miss Sooy deserve much credit for its quality. The young people all did nicely and their parents and teachers have reason to feel proud of them. The decorations were tasteful and the young people who waited on the crowd were polite and attentive.

One hundred ice cream cones and nearly a dozen elegant cakes were sold in one booth and $2.50 of candy made by the school girls sold in another booth.

About $28 was taken in but there were several dollars for expenses. The money will be spent for library books, as a nice little library is being built up.

H. B. BRADY'S HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

Handsome West State Street Property Owned by Capt. Smith Burns Only Partially Insured—Cold Engine Delayed Fight With Flames. Fire destroyed the home of H. B. Brady, 1153 West State street, early Saturday afternoon. It is supposed that the flames caught in the attic from a defective flue and they had gained a good headway when discovered. The fire soon broke through the roof and when the department arrived, the engine was cold and no water could be thrown for what seemed to spectators an interminable period. A stiff west wind fanned the flames and it was early apparent that the house was doomed. It burned from the attic roof to the first story and the part left standing is not of much value. The property is owned by Capt. Alexander Smith and he did not carry heavy insurance, his loss being estimated at $7,000 to $8,000. The house furnishings of the lower floor were practically all saved by the quick work of neighbors and boys from the School for the Deaf. Mr. Brady and his father-in-law, C. N. Thompson, however, lost all clothing and furnishings in the upper rooms but their loss is entirely covered by insurance.

Saved Some Furnishings.
About 1 o'clock someone passing the house noticed fire through the attic windows and called Mr. Brady's attention as he was then in front of the house. He rushed into the house and telephoned an alarm to the fire department and then hurried up to the attic and found it seething with flames. Meanwhile neighbors and others learned of the fire and gave all the aid possible. Mrs. Thompson was sick in bed and was carried to the home of Col. John R. Robertson nearby. Quick work was made in removing the piano, furniture and rugs from the hall, parlor, living room and library and little of it was damaged.

The fire department responded to the alarm quickly enough but when they arrived they could do nothing, according to witnesses, for twenty minutes. Seeing that that the department could not throw on water soon, Supt. Gillet had a line of hose laid from the School for the Deaf, but it was not long enough and no relief could be secured in this way. Boys from the school, however, did excellent work in saving furniture.

No Fire Under Engine.
The cause of the long delay in getting a stream of water on the fire was the fact that the engine arrived on the scene cold. A fire had to be lighted under the boiler and steam had to be raised before the pressure would come. When the engine leaves the department house the fire is supposedly kindled automatically from a gas jet beneath it. Commissioner Engel said last night that the firemen told him that the lighter failed to work when the engine left the building and that this fact was not noticed until they reached the scene of the fire. He said he was unable to explain the condition and did not understand how the long run could be made and the fact that the fire was not burning, remain unnoticed. Commissioner Engel said that there was a man short in the service. W. C. Osborne, who drives the engine, was taking his regular day off and Chas. DeSilva, the regular stoker, was therefore on the seat. This meant that Alex Howard, engineer, was on the back of the engine alone.

Certainly there was fault and negligence somewhere. The fire had gained such headway and the wind was so strong that it is not likely that the property could have been saved even if proper service had been given, but the fact does not lessen the blame. There are some citizens who believe that the fire was lighted but that the supply of fuel was so small that it did not last until the scene of the fire was reached. Other citizens charge that the firemen sometimes take the engine out without firing it, counting on a false alarm or an insignificant blaze. This charge, however, has not been substantiated.

Firemen Explain.
Chief Wood and the men under him insist that the whole cause of the trouble was the failure of the automatic lighter and the fact that this failure was not noticed sooner. They call attention to the fact also that the water pressure from the mains is very light at any point as far west as Sandusky street.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady, niece and son and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are guests at the home of Col. and Mrs. Robertson. Early this week they will move into a house as soon as one can be rented and furnished.

The Syndicate House.
The house owned by Mr. Brady and owned by Capt. Smith was known for years as 'The Syndicate House,' as it was erected by a group of persons, in 1888. Among the original owners were Fred Turner, J. A. Ayers, John T. Springer and John I. Chambers. They sold the house the year it was built to W. D. Alexander and later occupying it as his home Mr. Alexander sold to G. G. Huffaker. A few years ago Mr. Huffaker sold the property to Capt. Smith for $12,000.

DUMAS AS A COOK.

His Friends Found Him Acting as Chef in a Trouville Inn.

The familiar story of the arrival of the great Dumas at Trouville on a May afternoon in the thirties is a cheerful anecdote. Laughing loudly, he crossed the Touques carried on the shoulders of a sturdy Norman peasant and entered the primitive little inn of those early days with all the clatter and excitement which usually distinguished his movements.

La Mere Oserale, the good woman who kept it, told him flatly that she received none but painters. The Trouville of those days was a tiny fishing village which only a few artists had discovered. Dumas promptly alleged that he was a "painter in words" and even offered to paint—or write—her signboard, which the other clients—ungrateful dogs—had promised, but neglected to do. This handsome though confusing evidence of good faith mollified the good innkeeper, and she consented to receive Dumas at the amazing price of 2 francs a day, tout compris. Trouville was indeed then what the French term un petit trou pas cher—"a little hole not dear."

When the painters, friends whom Dumas had come to see in their remote corner, returned toward evening from the green woods and glades along the little river's valley they found the amiable giant filling the inn with his cries and laughter and brandishing a great spoon in the kitchen, where he was presiding personally over the preparation of an evening meal which promised to run his bill for extras into figures hitherto unknown in Trouville. —Harper's Magazine.

COLORED RAIN AND SNOW.

And in Volcanic Regions Gray Hail Is Relatively Common

In certain parts of Spain during last winter red and black snow fell. The phenomenon is explained as being due to the presence in the atmosphere in unusual quantities of certain mineral salts. History mentions a day when "the heavens rained blood." In the middle ages such an occurrence was accepted as predicting war or famine, or, at any rate, shedding of blood.

The presence of a micro-organism seems always to accompany red rain. In volcanic regions gray hail is relatively common. In Sicily this has been observed very often, because the higher layers of the atmosphere are filled with ashes from Mount Etna. During the past century there have been black rains in England twice, and on both occasions the color was due to the presence of micro-organisms.

A curious fall of red snow is observed sometimes in the Alps in spring, but black snow is a rarity. Last spring in the mountains that surround the valley of Emmen snow of a dirty grayish black has been noticed. It formed a crust of some centimeters in thickness and extended over the white snow which had fallen on previous days. This strange occurrence has not been satisfactorily explained, but it is supposed that the volcanic ashes from Etna were carried by the winds and precipitated by the dampness of the air. —Harper's Weekly.

A Capful of Wind.

The origin of the phrase "a capful of wind" can be traced to a Norse king, Eric VI., who died in 907 A. D. He was credited with the useful power of directing the wind to blow where he wished by the simple method of turning his cap to that point of the compass. His powers were much appreciated and trusted and resulted in his being known as "windy cap." There is no evidence as to whether he could regulate the force of the wind as well as the direction. Presumably he could, or his faithful believers would not have been so many. A "bagful of wind" is another common expression and indicates something like a gale. This has been traced down to the classical legend of Aeolus and his captive winds confined in bags.

DELICIOUS STUFFING FOR TURKEY.

Here is a recipe for stuffing for the Thanksgiving turkey that has been widely tried with entire satisfaction. It is one of the many new ways of using macaroni that have been devised by American cooks to please American tastes. The use of macaroni and spaghetti will be greatly increased as it becomes more generally known that they are, weight for weight, of more food value than meat, while they cost much less, and that a great variety of inviting dishes may be prepared with them. The fact that it is now possible to obtain the American made articles, manufactured in clean factories from the genuine Durum wheat has removed the most serious objection to their use in the past.

This stuffing is more easily prepared than the ordinary, and is never soggy. It can be given in liberal helpings to the children and is much more healthful for the "grown ups."

Macaroni Stuffing.
Boil macaroni until tender, as directed in the package, and the turkey liver with it. Chop the liver fine and mix. Flavor with grated onion, pepper and salt, adding a touch of sage if desired.

YOU NEED S.S.S.

Every sufferer of Rheumatism needs S. S. S. because this great blood purifier is a certain cure for the painful disease. Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid and other corrosive, irritating impurities in the blood, which are carried through the circulation to the different portions of the system. This acid matter coats the nerves, muscles and joints with a fine, caustic deposit and the sharp cutting pains or dull, constant aches are produced. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it is a perfect blood purifier. It goes into the blood, neutralizes the acids, and dissolves the irritating particles and forces them out of the system through the natural excretory channels. Then all inflammation and swelling subside, the pains and aches cease, and not only is Rheumatism permanently cured but under the tonic effects of S. S. S. the entire health is benefited and built up. S. S. S. reaches inherited cases as well as those which have been acquired, and good results always follow its use. S. S. S. is an absolutely safe remedy because it contains no strong minerals to damage the system. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write and request same. S. S. S. is for sale at leading drug stores.

NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO BE ORGANIZED SOON WILL COME FORMALLY INTO EXISTENCE JANUARY FIRST

Get-to-Gether Meeting Is Announced. Secretary Fritchey Announces New Plan of Department Organization—Membership Roll Now Shows 325 Names.

The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce will formally come into existence on Jan. 1, 1913, and take the place of the present Business Men's Association. The new set of by-laws are being drawn up and the details relative to the perfecting of a new organization should be completed by that time. Membership dues of the persons who signed up during the recent campaign will not begin until the first of the year.

A big informal get-together meeting will be held within the next two or three weeks for the purpose of warmly welcoming the two hundred or more new members. It is hoped that all the members will be present on that occasion.

Secretary Fritchey said yesterday: "As secretary of our new commercial organization, I wish to state that I am greatly pleased with the willingness which the men of Jacksonville responded to the call to do something for their home city. I have now a body of men with me whose influence and power is difficult to appreciate.

Each Member Must Help. "Over 325 men have thus far promised me their financial support. The money obligation sinks into oblivion in measuring its strength with the active service which must be required from each of us. Everyone should be willing to sacrifice a little time and effort if we expect to realize success in its fullest terms. If we become content to permit civic affairs to drift as they have been and to delegate to a few the privilege of performing a duty which rightfully belongs to every citizen we will fail and fail miserably. The new organization instead of providing a cure will kill our good purpose.

"The diagram below clearly explains the plan of our new organization. It resembles the commission form of government by having separate departments, each of which has a vice president and a secretary. The directors will be composed of these two heads of each department and in addition three directors will be appointed by the president from the membership at large.

"The president of the Chamber will have charge of the department of industry and transportation, a most important department. The president of the Young Men's Booster's club will be known as the fifth vice president and he and the secretary of the club will be on the directorate.

Retailers to Have Organization. "A very desirable feature of this new plan is that the retail merchants will have an organization of their own, affiliated, however, with the Chamber. If in the future they should deem it necessary to have a salaried secretary, this is possible. The advantage in their having a separate department will be, that it will be a working unit and not a separate organization apart from the Chamber of Commerce.

"A questionnaire postcard will be sent out on Tuesday to ascertain which of the departments each member wishes to actively identify himself with.

"I must have a ready response from every member and trust that each will answer all the questions. Let it show that the first thing we undertake can be done promptly. I desire this information in order that each member will be working along lines in which he is vitally concerned.

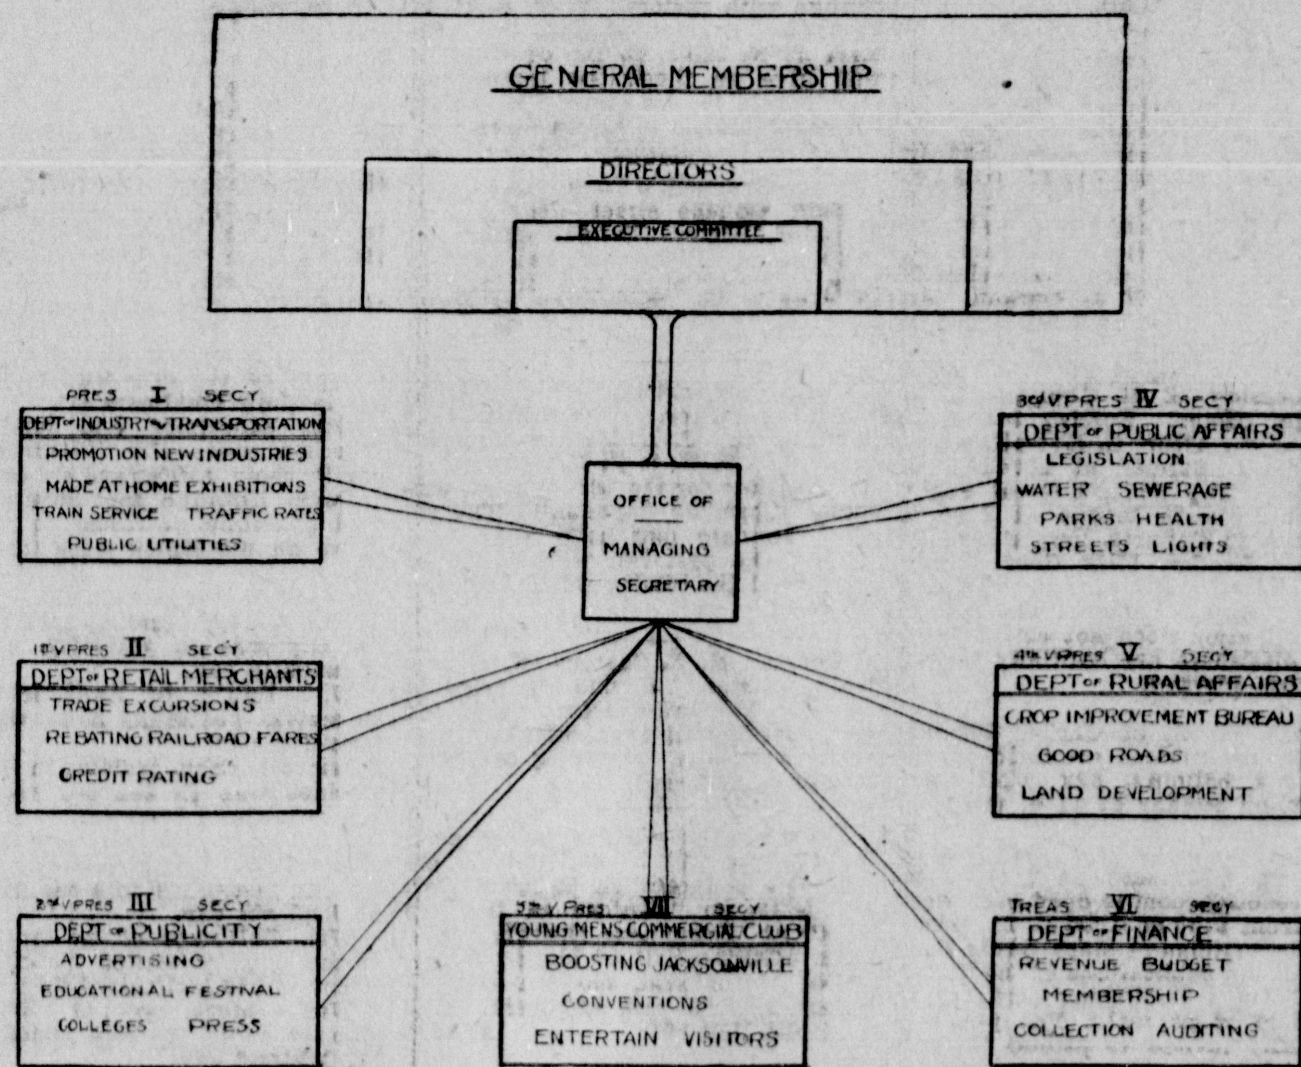

"This plan for commercial organization differs in many respects from any heretofore adopted by any city. I believe it suits our situation and is constructed on a broad enough basis to develop all the interests of our community. If you give me your assistance and co-operation it will prove successful. I have confidence in the business men of Jacksonville that this will be forthcoming.

The Men Who Helped.

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank the newspapers for their assistance given me during our recent campaign. It would be difficult to express it in concrete terms. I have been unable to thank all the following men personally, who have worked so industriously in a movement which meant what it has to Jacksonville, so I take this means. They were required to shoulder part of the responsibilities which belonged to more of us:

WORTHINGTON ADAMS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Charge From Shot Gun Strikes Arm and Right Side—Accident Happens While He is Hunting Near Naples.

Worthington Adams, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Adams, was accidentally shot while out hunting near Naples Saturday afternoon and is at Passavant hospital suffering from a wound in his arm and right side.

In company with John Kolp, he went to Naples Saturday morning and the accident happened Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock. He was preparing to leave a boat and when he picked up his gun it was accidentally discharged, the shot passing under his right arm and making an ugly wound in his right side and arm, just below the shoulder. He was taken to the residence of Mr. Abbott at Naples and Dr. Adams was notified of the accident. He and Dr. Carl E. Black went to Naples in an automobile and the injured boy was brought to this city by his father on the evening Wabash train and taken to Passavant hospital. Last night he was resting easily and nothing serious is expected to develop.

GAVE OYSTER SUPPER.

The Clio Circle of the Litherberry Christian church gave a very successful oyster supper at the church Saturday evening. A large number of people were served and quite a neat sum was realized.

Mrs. George Richardson and daughter, residents of the vicinity of the Point, were among the shoppers in the city yesterday.

OBITUARY.

The following obituary of the late Mrs. James Whitmire is taken from the Forrest Rambler and will be of interest to the many friends of the deceased here:

"Mrs. Lednah Robinson Whitmire was born February 28, 1828 and died Oct. 3, 1912, having reached the age of four score and four years. She was the daughter of Joel and Elizabeth Robinson of Morgan county, Illinois. The girl's early years were spent on the farm, where she attended the country school. Later she entered the Young Ladies' Seminary in Jacksonville, where she completed her education. At the age of sixteen she united with the Christian church an Antioch and was active in the service of the Master as long as she was able.

"She was married to Dr. James S. Whitmire on July 4, 1846. The young couple went at once to their new home in Metamora, where the husband established a practice of medicine. There they lived happily together for more than fifty years, during all of which time the doctor was engaged in his chosen work, that of healing the sick and distressed. Dr. and Mrs. Whitmire were the parents of six children, five sons and one daughter.

"The later is the only surviving member. Mrs. Minnie M. Fairchild of this city, who has for many years tenderly and affectionately cared for her aged mother. Two of the sons died in infancy. Three grew to manhood and became physicians. Dr. C. Leonard Whitmire, located at Waverly, Iowa; Dr. Z. Lincoln Whitmire at Forrest. The surviving grandchildren are June and Sidney Whitmire of Urbana, Mrs. Daugherty of Denver, Colo. Mrs. Clark of Pittsburgh, Pa. Dr. B. J. Fairchild of Burlington, Wis. and Leonard Whitmire, of Waverly, Ia. The great-grandchildren are Chester Clark and Leonard Fairchild. Mrs. Whitmire removed from Metamora to Forrest with her daughter several years ago. Their home has been a blessing and a benediction to the neighborhood. The sunny disposition of Grandmama Whitmire and her cheerful smile cast many a bright ray on the dark pathway of sad hearts, and often gave hope and courage to despondent souls. The light of hope and joy in her soul death itself could not extinguish.

"The funeral services were conducted at her home by Rev. Thos. Armstrong, and a quartet rendered several beautiful songs.

"The remains were taken to Metamora where a large circle of old friends of the deceased were waiting at the station."

ILLUSTRATED ADDRESS AT WESTMINSTER.

Dr. John N. Mills of Evanston, Ill. will deliver an address on "Travel in the Orient," at Westminster church this evening. The lecture is to be given under the auspices of Westminster church and Illinois college. Dr. Mills has been traveling extensively during the last two years in the far east. He has made a large collection of lantern slides, many of which have been beautifully colored by a Japanese artist. He will use over one hundred of these slides to illustrate his address Sunday evening. Many colleges, universities and churches throughout the middle west have invited Dr. Mills to lecture on his travels in the east.

On Monday morning at 9:45 Dr. Mills will address the students at the chapel exercises on the subject, "Religious and Political Conditions in the Far East."

Mrs. Norman Waitrip and Miss Blanche Waitrip of White Hall were among the visitors in the city yesterday.

THURSDAY EVENTFUL DAY IN PUGILISM

LIGHT-WEIGHTS MONOPOLIZE SPOT LIGHT FOR THANKSGIVING DAY.

Ritchie-Wolgast Twenty Round Go in San Francisco Marks Feature Event of the Day—Willie Promises to Give Ad Interesting Afternoon.

By James J. Corbett, Former Heavy-Weight Champion of the World.

New York, Nov. 23.—(Special to the Jacksonville Journal)—Light-weights will again monopolize the spot light Thanksgiving day as has been their custom for years. At the principal points of fight activity in the west the 133 pounders are billed as star holiday attractions, while in the east they will contribute more than a fair share towards making next Thursday an eventful day in pugilism.

The feature event is billed for San Francisco where the champion is booked to defend the title in a twenty round match with Willie Ritchie—a development of the past twelve months and deemed by many wisecracks the most formidable candidate for Wolgast's honors. This prediction is based upon the splendid record Ritchie has made during a short but eventful career.

A year ago Willie was employed by Packey McFarland at the San Francisco camp, where the Chicagoan was busily engaged in preparing for a bout with Harlan Tommy Murphy. Practically unknown at the time Ritchie's chance for fame came with Ad Wolgast's attack of appendicitis on the eve of the proposed Wolgast-Freddie Welsh contest. Tom McCarey, promoter of the match, sent out a hurry call for a volunteer to "sub" for Ad against the clever Welsh. Ritchie responded and in the short space of twenty-four hours made the trip from Frisco to Los Angeles, stood Freddie off for twenty rounds, and incidentally carved a niche in the pugilistic hall of fame. Apparently the youngster had improved the golden opportunities while assisting the masterly McFarland at the trainer's tasks.

Shortly afterwards followed the four round bout with Wolgast which established the youngster as the real thing and not a flash in the pan as many thought when he started the world by sticking it out with Welsh. Then the trip east. None of the talent in this neck of the woods wanted Willie's game. A novice who could hold Welsh fairly even and slug for four rounds at top speed with the champion was too dangerous to take a chance with, the local bunch decided. It is a matter of record that Willie did not show his wares in Gotham. A little later he boxed Joe Mandot ten rounds in New Orleans. According to the newspapers Joseph was off to receiving end throughout the contest.

Some going that, for a youngster in his first year as a glove slinger. For a beginner to take on a boxer of Welsh's calibre, barely losing the decision, and to follow it up with a draw with Wolgast and a popular verdict over Joe Mandot, recognized as championship timber, is stepping some, and proves the boy has the real fighting stock in him.

Many critics will have it that Wolgast is through, has shot his bolt, so to speak, his recent indifferent performance with Mandot being used to emphasize their assertions. The operation of a year ago is blamed for the decay in the physical powers of the champion. Be that as it may, I believe Ad to be the daddy of the legitimate 133 pounders and that the coming encounter will show he has plenty of good fight left in his make-up. No boxer ever held the title who boasted greater courage and confidence when facing an opponent and those qualities are hard to down, in the ring or elsewhere. Possibly he may not have completely gotten over the ill effects of the appendicitis carving (I can bear testimony that it takes some time), but I know for a fact the "champ" is satisfied with his physical condition. Had a long talk with the little fellow at the time he called on me in the Philadelphia hospital and, if he was "bulling" me Wolgast is a corking good actor.

While admitting his work in the Joe Mandot job was not particularly impressive Ad points to his record as evidence that he never was a star over a short distance. The twenty round and finish contests are far more suited to his particular style of milling. He is very confident of victory over young Ritchie.

At that Willie has an outside chance to vanquish the champion. He is younger, a niftier boxer and the splendid account he gave of himself in their four round meeting instilled him with confidence that he will prove the master in a longer bout. But the odds are that he will not be able to turn the trick Thanksgiving day, 1912, as Wolgast has gradually fought himself back into shape and when close to top form is practically unbeatable at the weight and distance. In forecasting a battle at 133 pounds in which the champion is to be the confeder, it must be taken into consideration that Ad is a natural light-weight and makes the mark without having to resort to strenuous training methods in which a portion of his stamina might be left on the road or in the gymnasium. It will be seen that he has a great advantage in this respect over aspirants who are compelled to put in weeks of hard work and continue the heavy stunts up to practically the last minute before entering the ring. However, if Al wins by a knockout it will surprise me as Ritchie's splendid battles make the task look a difficult one for even an indomitable little scrapper like Wolgast.

Tom O'Rourke denies that Tony Ross bested Al Palzer at Philadelphia last week. He says Ross was entitled to a draw and no more. O'Rourke is not making excuses for his "hope" and is not at all satisfied with Al's showing. He says the big fellow is way over weight as a result of five months' vacation and that it will take considerable hard work and several battles to round him into good condition. It is like beginning all over again with this fellow, according to Tom.

At that O'Rourke takes a goodly share of the blame for the poor work of the other night on his own shoulders. He says Palzer was suffering from a very bad cold and that on top of the fat he was carrying was too much of a handicap. He underestimated Ross and thought his man, even though in poor shape, could win. Which is an error of judgment the shrewd O'Rourke is seldom guilty of. Before taking Al to California to box the winner of the Flynn-McCurry match Tom hopes to arrange several local bouts for his charge as part of the preparatory system. Palzer thrives on work.

Eddie Morgan, who claims the English bantam-weight title (it seems all British boxers who visit us are champions), has grabbed a match with Johnny Kilbane. While no date has been announced it is likely Los Angeles will get the bout for a Christmas attraction. On the surface it would appear that Kilbane will have much the better of the two weights, but as the English bantam limit is 118 and the American feather-weight 122 pounds it will be seen that there will be little, if any, difference in actual poundage. And Morgan is rather heavy for even a British bantam. When he boxed Eddie O'Keefe the visitor weighed within a few ounces of his opponent.

By the way Eddie Morgan is not a false alarm like many foreigners who have visited us lately. In his first bout here he decisively defeated Frankie Burns, the Jersey bantam, and local critics, all of whom are great admirers (?) of Kilbane, "allowed" he did the job much better than out feather-weight champion. Also Morgan's showing in the O'Keefe contest was impressive. But boxing Kilbane two rounds is a different proposition from waiting through short bouts with boys of the Burns and O'Keefe variety, neither of whom has a punch.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE.

Dr. John W. Hancher reached the college Wednesday morning and has been busily engaged in perfecting the plans for the campaign which is to begin next Friday.

Dr. Harker returned Friday night from Bloomington, where he attended a meeting of the educational commission.

Miss Ida Evans has returned from Decatur, where she was called by the illness of her sister.

The report of the half semester grades which are made out for the students in the academy shows that Zelma Jones of Mt. Pleasant, Ill., made the highest grade of any one in the academy, her work being between 95 and 100 in every subject.

The annual banquet of the Phi Nu Literary society was held Saturday evening at the Colonial Inn.

The recital Thursday by students was well attended and greatly enjoyed.

The Young Women's Christian association had a pie sale at the close of chapel Friday morning.

Applications have begun to come in for September, 1913. Interest seems to be chiefly for regular college work. The degree courses in all the departments having the preference over the special terms.

On Wednesday, Nov. 20, E. E. Crabtree began a series of talks with the second year home economics students on correct banking methods. In his first talk he explained the opening of a bank account, the making out of a deposit slip, the making out and endorsing of checks and the function of the pass-book. We feel that these talks will be of inestimable value to the students.

Miss Amanda Kidder, the head of the expression department, will be very busy Thanksgiving day and the two days following. She reads in Chicago at the Training School for City, Home and Foreign Missions on Thanksgiving afternoon. At this time she will read "The Servant in the House." In the evening at the same place she will read Browning's "Saul," and Bible selections. Friday afternoon she will read for the Ossoli club of Benton Harbor, Mich., Charles Rann Kennedy's drama "The Terrible Meek."

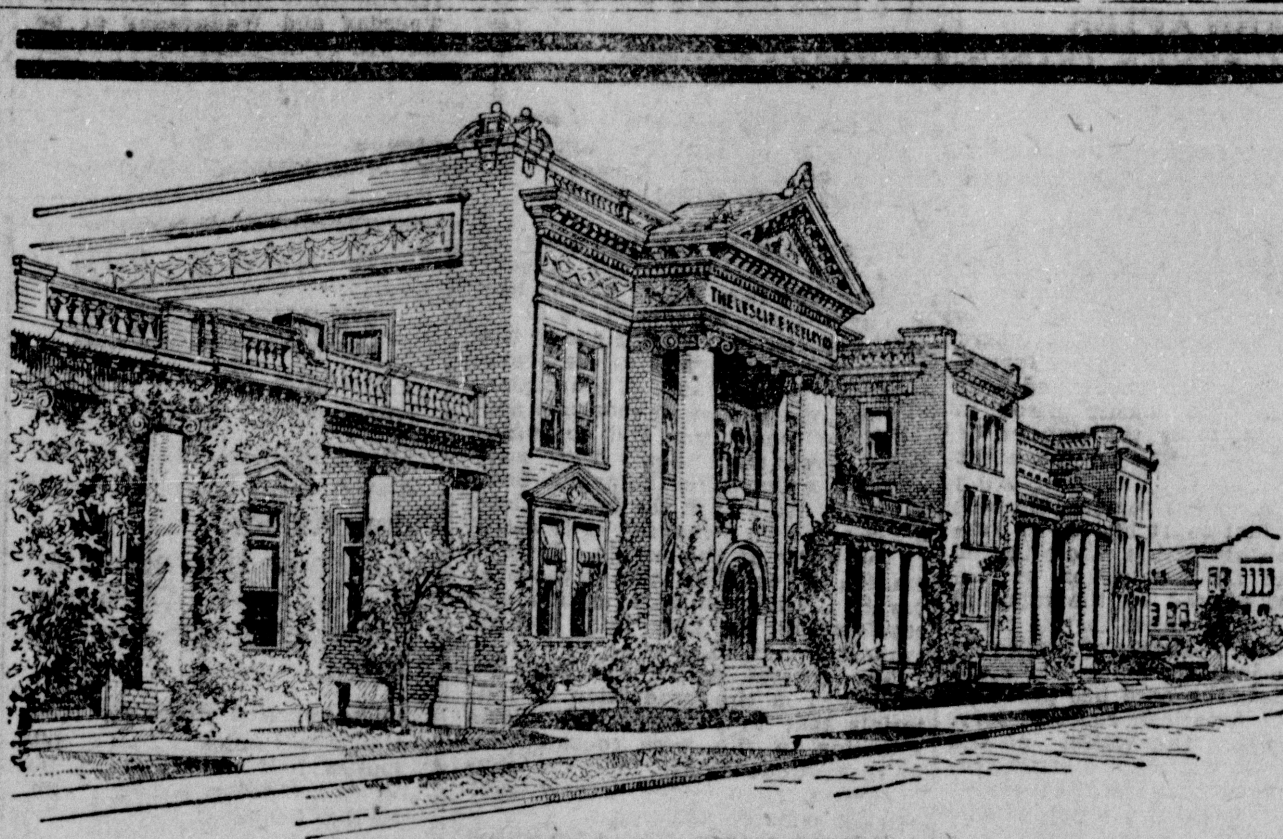

One of the most important events in the social and literary life of the Woman's college was the recent organization of two new literary societies. For some years past it has not been possible to accommodate in the Belles Lettres and Phi Nu all the students who were anxious to do good society work and out of this need has come the Theta Sigma and Lambda Alpha Mu. Officers of these organizations have already been announced. These societies will take care of the growth of the school for the immediate future.

Miss Oldfield hopes to be with her family in Vincennes, Ind., over Thanksgiving day, and Miss Jerald will be in Vandalia, her home.

Miss Robinson gave a number of operatic selections on the Victrola last Monday afternoon for the children's story hour class.

The students' recital on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 21, passed off well and was well attended by a large number of students. The following was the program:

In the last 30 years 400,000 men have been saved from the drink habit by the Keeley Treatment. They were hopeless, despairing—down and out! NOW they have happy homes and families—they have taken a new, fresh start. The sun is shining again!

"Drunkenness Is a Disease and I Can Cure It"

Dr. Leslie E. Keeley startled the world, thirty-two years ago, with this famous statement. Physicians were incredulous. Millions jeered and scoffed. BUT IT WAS TRUE!

Nearly everyone knows—now—that it is useless to abuse or upbraid a man who drinks to excess. His own conscience does that daily, hourly. He is a sick man and can no more cure himself than can a man suffering from smallpox or brain fever.

Yet he can be saved! You, who read this, can help him! WE CAN CURE HIM!

What, Then, Is the Liquor Disease?

It is an altered condition of the nerve cells, caused by the excessive use of alcohol, wherein the nerves have become trained to feed on it, and will not do their work except under its influence.

The "craving" or appetite for liquor is not the disease. It is merely the symptom of the disease just as a cough is a symptom of some irritation or inflammation.

When the disease is removed the craving for drink disappears just as the cough disappears when the cause of the trouble is removed.

The World-Famous "Keeley Cure"

The Keeley treatment—known the world around as the "Keeley Cure"—is simply the application of reconstructive nerve tonics which remove the artificial alcoholic appetite of the nerve cells and restore them to a natural, healthy condition.

We also cure Opium, Morphine and other drug addictions. The drug is withdrawn gradually and there is no shock, collapse, prostration or sickness. Full particulars in plain, sealed envelope on request.

The treatment produces no sickness or nausea. It requires no restriction or confinement of patients. It leaves absolutely no ill effects.

The Keeley treatment can be had ONLY at the Keeley Institute, Dwight, Illinois, or at its official branches, of which there is one or more in almost every state.

Any claims to furnish the Keeley treatment in any other way are false.

Results of the "Keeley Cure"

The effect of the Keeley remedies is to absolutely destroy the craving and appetite for drink. The man who takes the Keeley treatment is no longer called on to fight an appetite. The desire and necessity for alcohol are gone.

And the cure lasts! Hear what men say who have been saved!

"This is the twentieth anniversary of my reincarnation and release from the bondage of the Demon Rum. Completely cured—the accursed appetite never to return."

"This is the eighteenth anniversary of my

400,000 Men Saved From the Liquor Disease

graduation at Dwight. No matter what rises, I never think of whiskey."

"I took the cure twelve years ago—Drink is no longer any temptation to me."

"Words cannot express what I feel in my soul for the God-given saving institute at Dwight, Ill. I haven't the least desire for drink any more than if I had never tasted it."

We have many, many thousands of letters like the above.

Full Information on Request

We have a number of booklets and other printed matter explaining full details of the Keeley treatment. These we will be glad to send, on request, to inquirers.

Information is mailed in plain, sealed envelope.

All correspondence is sacredly confidential.

YOU can SAVE that brother, relative, friend, employee from ruin, disgrace and death!

Will you do it?

Home remedies are prepared and sold by us for the cure of the Tobacco Habit and many forms of nervous troubles. Send for printed matter today.

We have a Chicago office, Suite 906 Rector Building, 79 West Monroe Street, where arrangements may be made.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

Dr. John N. Mills of Evanston, Ill., who is to deliver the illustrated address on Travel in the Orient, Sunday evening at Westminster church, is one of the friends and benefactors of Illinois college. He and Mrs. Mills will be guests at the home of President and Mrs. Rammekamp. Dr. Mills will speak to the students at the chapel exercises Monday morning. Friends of the college will be welcome.

Dr. Rollin H. Tanner of the department of Greek and Latin, went to Urbana Thursday evening to attend the high school conference at the University of Illinois on Friday. Mrs. Elizabeth David Leavitt has written some stories for children entitled "The Grasshopper Stories." They have just been published by a local printer. The booklet is beautifully illustrated by Mrs. Maud Dewey Doan.

The College Rambler, issued last Friday, contains an article on the late Prof. H. W. Johnston, '79. The article consists chiefly of extracts from a tribute to Professor Johnston by Professor Edward Camps, which appeared in a recent number of the "Classical Journal."

$5,000 VERDICT FOR WIDOW.
A verdict of $5,000 was given by the jury to Mrs. Hettie Hapenny for the death of her husband, which it was alleged was caused by liquor sold by Huffman & Wilson, who conducted a saloon at Manito. Daniel Hapenny lost his life Oct. 21, 1911, by the overturning of an automobile driven by J. L. Reed of San Jose. It was alleged that the men became intoxicated at Manito and by reason of this intoxication Reed was unable to properly control the automobile. Several witnesses testified that they were running at a high rate of speed.

Those Railroad Spook Lights

By D. K. McCarty.

While visiting with our brother, Eli, and sister, Gussie, near Arenzville, the latter end of the week, we put in part of our time investigating the railroad spook problem which has caused a good deal of excitement among the people living between Arenzville and Concord. Eli and Gussie live directly south of Arenzville. They have lived there many years and are familiar with all the happenings on the road between the two towns.

Eli informed us that five men have been killed between Arenzville and Concord within the last twenty years. He also says that the mysterious lights are not a new thing except the red, the white lights having been seen a number of years ago; mostly in form of headlights. On certain nights one might see a headlight coming from the direction of Concord with all the appearance of a train in full motion, but when one stepped from the tracks, to be out of danger, nothing but a bright light passed and in a few seconds everything was in darkness again.

Eli says the red lights appeared about four years ago, directly after a brakeman was decapitated on the dog-tail switch at the top of the grade. He also says that he has stood on the side of the track while the light passed within 4 feet of him and heard no noise; was sure there was no flesh and blood attached to the light. He also says there is no occasion to be excited over these lights. They have never harmed anyone, nor done damage to property. They are a freak of nature that scientific men have failed to fathom. It is easy to make sport of something you do not understand, but that does not satisfy the minds of those who actually see these freaks of nature.

Eli further says that if these detectives will walk the track from Arenzville to Concord every night for a month he will insure them a sight of the red light. The detectives who went out to solve this problem remind us of the fellow who tracked a bear three days and then gave up the chase, because the track was getting too fresh. A spook is under no obligations to appear just because a detective goes out on a certain night to call his bluff. If these detectives, or any one, want an interview with these railroad spooks, they should play fair and try to arrange their visits to the convenience of the spook. Right is right and will harm no one, not even a spook.

D. K. McCarty.

WILL HANG AFTER FACING SEVEN TRIALS

Colored Man Charged with Murder in Texas: Has Been Eight Years in Jail.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 23.—After having been tried for murder seven times, sentenced to death six times and having spent nearly eight years in prison pending his trials, Burrell Oates, a negro, will be hanged next week at the Waxahachie prison to pay the penalty for the murder of Sol Aronoff in Dallas on the night of Nov. 29, 1904. This will bring to an end the most remarkable case in the criminal court history of Texas and probably of the whole United States. As an illustration of the possibilities offered by the criminal court practice in vogue in this country, to delay the course of justice by recourse to legal quibbles over mere technicalities, the case has probably no equal in American court history.

Sol Aronoff, the victim of the crime, and his wife kept a small grocery store near the railroad tracks in this city. On the night of the murder Burrell Oates, Holly Van and Frank McCue, the latter two white men, entered Aronoff's store and held up the proprietor. While they were robbing the man, Mrs. Aronoff entered the store and fired at the men. The robbers fired several shots and one of them killed Aronoff. A few days after the murder the three men were arrested and charged with the murder of Aronoff. Van was convicted of murder and hanged for his crime. McCue became state's evidence and escaped punishment.

Oates had no funds to employ an attorney and when his trial came up in the Dallas court, the judge appointed A. S. Baskett, a young lawyer, against the latter's protest, to defend the negro. Ever since that time Baskett has been in sole charge of the defense and the fight he made for his client has attracted wide attention and will go down in the history of criminal jurisprudence as one of the most remarkable examples of forensic skill and perseverance.

The first trial of Oates resulted in his conviction and sentence to death. An appeal was taken to the court of criminal appeals and the case was remanded for a new trial on April 12, 1905, on account of an irregularity in drawing the names of jurors.

At the second trial Oates was again convicted and sentenced to death. Again an appeal was taken and on May 9, 1906, the criminal court of appeals granted a new trial because the trial judge had failed to instruct the jury in his charge that if the wife shot her husband by mistake the prisoner was not guilty of murder.

Oates was again tried and convicted, but on May 15, 1907, the case was reversed by the court of criminal appeals on the ground that the trial judge did not properly define murder in his charge to the jury. After another trial the case again came before the Court of Criminal Appeals on June 23, 1909, and a question as to the legality of the appointment of the trial judge was the ground for setting aside the verdict and again remanding the case for a new trial. The fifth trial of the case resulted in no verdict as to penalty, one juror standing out for life imprisonment, while the others demanded the death penalty.

Owing to the strong feeling against Oates in this county the authorities considered it advisable to remove him to some place of safety. For a time he was kept in the Cleburne jail and then he was taken to the Ellis County jail in Waxahachie, where he is now awaiting his execution.

When the Oates case came up for its sixth trial in this county, Judge Robert B. Seay of the Criminal District Court of Dallas county, acting upon his own motion, transferred the case to Ellis county. The sixth trial again resulted in the conviction of the prisoner and a death sentence. Once more an appeal was taken and the Court of Appeals granted a new trial upon the ground that the verdict of the jury did not specify the degree of murder of which Oates had been found guilty.

The seventh and last trial, which took place in Waxahachie, resulted, on November 4, 1911, in a verdict of murder in the first degree and a sentence of death. A motion for a rehearing was refused by the Court of Criminal Appeals on October 16, of the present year and the date of the execution of the sentence was set for next week. In the lower courts four judges, in two different counties have presided at the trials and three different county attorneys with their assistants have acted as prosecutors. The prisoner himself, because so tired of the everlasting delays that during the past two years he repeatedly begged to be executed.

FARMERS' NATIONAL CONGRESS AT PLANO.

It may be a great thing for a small town to place itself upon the map, but Plano had evidently gone too far when it secured the thirty-first annual convention of the Farmers' National Congress for September 23-26, 1913. Plano is a town of 2,000 inhabitants and can accommodate possibly fifty transients at a time. The convention is expected to send 10,000 delegates, more than three times the population of the town. The good citizens are puzzling over the matter, but have decided that the convention will not be allowed to go to some other city.

"WOMAN'S PROBLEMS IN ECONOMICS"

Article by student in Economics department of Illinois Woman's College, Miss L. H. Gillet, director.

We are now at the beginning of some very evident changes in economics. The part which woman has to play in these movements is of no small importance. This is due to the attention being turned to the previously neglected phases of economics.

Two great phases in economic activity are production and consumption. Production deals with supplying of articles for the public. Consumption deals with the use of these articles in such a manner as to satisfy the wants of the people. In production the consideration is the preparation, while in consumption the consideration is how this wealth gained is enjoyed.

The general public has been so interested in the production of materials that they have paid little attention to the wise consumption of these productions. Now the consumption is to enter largely into the problems of economics.

It is this change of attitude which brings to the notice of the thinking public the part which woman has to take in the consumption of materials. It falls to man to direct the general course of production, but consumption is the problem to be worked out by woman.

In the home the first economic problem which presents itself to the housewife is that of food for the family. To be nourishing food does not necessarily need to be expensive. Some women have this mistaken idea and the sooner they rid themselves of it the sooner the high cost of living will be reduced. Women should learn the relative value of foods. She should know that many cereals, such as rice and oats furnish much more nutrition at a less cost than is furnished by potatoes. Few housewives realize that there is as much food value in the cheaper cuts of meat as in the more expensive ones. Properly prepared they are more nutritious.

Women should know how and what to buy. Many leave the ordering of their food supplies to their servants. They too often are not interested in the regulating of the expenses and are not careful in buying. Many cases have come to light which show that grocers bribe the servants in order to obtain larger orders. This would not be true if every woman attended to her own buying.

Then again the woman in the home has charge of the selection of clothing for her family. She should always choose materials which will be most serviceable, will launder well and look best for as reasonable amount of money as possible. Since the actual cost of materials is small in proportion to the cost which is involved in dressmaking mills it would be of advantage for women to understand at least the fundamentals about the making of garments.

The house is the place in which the family spend a large amount of time, so it must be as sanitary, as attractive and convenient as possible. The housewife should see that her home is clean and that the sewage and plumbing is good, for sanitary surroundings save many doctor bills. Modern conveniences should be used for the welfare of the family. The rooms should be arranged so as to cause as few steps as possible, for the saving of steps means the saving of energy, which ranks with the saving of wealth.

As to the furnishings of the home they should be simple and in good taste. The simpler the furniture and the hangings the better the taste displayed by the home maker. Some times furniture is selected which at the time of the purchase is very attractive, but involves no thought of its durability. In a very short time the article has lost its attractiveness and use, and is assigned to a place in the attic. This one can plainly see is a waste of money which might have been invested wisely if time had been taken to consider before the purchase was made.

The wise choice of books, papers, magazines and amusements is very important in the home. Those should be chosen which will give the most enjoyment and benefit to the members of the family. The returns from money invested in good literature fully justified the expenditure.

Choice precedes production. If there is no demand by the consumers for certain articles there will be no production of them. For instance, if there were no demand for foods having small food values, clothes out of taste and tawdry, impractical fragile furniture, and for books not worth reading there would be none of these things manufactured. If simpler tastes were cultivated in the home the cost of living would be happier and more efficient.

It is woman who controls the production of all things used in the home and it is only through the realization by women of their responsibility in these matters that the standards of right living will be adopted.

To the woman it is given to add many times to the enjoyment which the products of industry can furnish. Since she by adding pleasure to consumption increases the value of the products, she performs an economic function.

A large share of suffering in homes is not caused so much by lack of income as by the lack of knowledge as how to spend wisely. There is no economic duty in the home greater than determining the manner in which to spend money so as to give the greatest good to her family at the least cost.

The economic function of woman, even though the man remain chief producer and woman the chief factor in consumption, will be considered no less important than man's. Both contribute powerfully to prosperity and by the efficiency of each in his realm the greatest service may be performed.

Texas This Winter? Why Not?

Many folks are just commencing to "get wise" to the attractions of a trip to Texas.

Texas lands? Oh, yes, fortunes have been made and are being made in city property down there. If you have never been in that country, don't you really owe yourself a Texas outing? This winter, for instance—why not?

The rates are attractive. The climate is fine, the hotels are good; there's a lot to see, and you may run across a good way to make some money—others have.

Anyhow, come in and let's talk it over. If I haven't litera ture describing the particular section that interests you, I can get it. It's printed. E. F. MITCH ELL, Ticket Agent.

GENERAL MARKET NEWS

WHEAT CLOSES AT STRONG ADVANCE

War Movements in Germany, Austria and Russia Strengthens Market to Rise.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Nov. 23.—Army movements in Germany, Austria and Russia forced wheat today up grade.
The market closed strong at an advance of 1/4 cent to 78 1/2. Corn finished 1/4 cent to 78 1/2 higher and oats with a gain of 1/4 cent to 78 1/2. Latest trading left provisions irregular straggling from the decline to a rise of 25c.

Strength developed in wheat notwithstanding early depression, the result of expected large world shipments and favorable Argentina crop reports. The upturn was largely brought about by the anxiety of shorts who were trying to curtail risk at the week-end. Free selling on the bulge brought about a smart reaction but the effect proved brief.

Estimates indicating that the winter wheat acreage of the United States amounted to 7 per cent less than the total a year ago, furnished help to the bulls. Speculators took interest also in statements that the Dakotas and Minnesota had already marketed about an entire normal crop, and were in a position now to hold back.

May wheat swung from 89 to 90 1/2 with last sales 1/4 cent up at 90 1/2 and 1/4 cent.

Lightness of country offerings gave snap to the buying of corn.
Fine weather seemed to make little impression. May fluctuated between 47 1/2 and 48c, closing firm 1/2 cent higher at 48c. Cash grades were easy. No. 2 yellow was not quoted.

Oats climbed account of disappointing receipts. May which sold for 32 to 32 1/2 closed 1/4 cent over last night at 32 1/2.

Longer sold provisions early, but later the war news dominated the market. Nearly delivery of pork made the chief advance 25c.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The affairs of the nation and the business throughout the country will come to a pause next Thursday, while the people will join in the annual observance of Thanksgiving day, the most widely observed of the national holidays. In every community the day will be observed with family gatherings and special church services, while in many of the larger centers football games and various forms of festivities will be added to the celebration. President Taft will spend the day at the white house, where all the members of his family and several intimate friends will assemble to share the 35 pound Rhode Island turkey that will grace the dinner table. President-elect Wilson, for the first time in his life, will spend Thanksgiving day outside his native land. In far off Bermuda, where he is spending his vacation, he will doubtless be able to enjoy a good imitation of the American turkey dinner.

Immediately after Thanksgiving the senators and representatives, some of the victors and many of the vanquished in the recent election, will pour into the capital in readiness for the final session of the sixtieth congress, which will be called to order on Monday, December 2.

Wednesday will be observed throughout the south as "Knapp Agricultural Day." In every agricultural school and farming community special exercises will be held to survey and review the agricultural and resources and achievements of the south, and to express appreciation of the services of the late Dr. Seamon A. Knapp, the founder of the demonstration work and the boys' and girls' clubs in the south.

Prelates and clergy of the Anglican church in Canada will assemble in Winnipeg Saturday for the consecration of the venerable Archbishop Robins as bishop of the diocese of Athabasca. The diocese lies in the great country to the far north of Edmonton, where the bishop will be obliged to travel hundreds of miles by canoe or wagon in making his round of the church missions.

Other news of the week will be furnished by the opening of the grand opera seasons in Chicago and Boston, the annual army-navy football game at Philadelphia, the inauguration of the international chess championship tournament in New York city, the fifteenth annual session of the American Mining congress at Spokane, and the opening of the International Live Stock exposition at Chicago.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The affairs of the nation and the business throughout the country will come to a pause next Thursday, while the people will join in the annual observance of Thanksgiving day, the most widely observed of the national holidays. In every community the day will be observed with family gatherings and special church services, while in many of the larger centers football games and various forms of festivities will be added to the celebration. President Taft will spend the day at the white house, where all the members of his family and several intimate friends will assemble to share the 35 pound Rhode Island turkey that will grace the dinner table. President-elect Wilson, for the first time in his life, will spend Thanksgiving day outside his native land. In far off Bermuda, where he is spending his vacation, he will doubtless be able to enjoy a good imitation of the American turkey dinner.

Immediately after Thanksgiving the senators and representatives, some of the victors and many of the vanquished in the recent election, will pour into the capital in readiness for the final session of the sixtysecond congress, which will be called to order on Monday, December 2.

Wednesday will be observed throughout the south as "Knapp Agricultural Day." In every agricultural school and farming community special exercises will be held to survey and review the agricultural and resources and achievements of the south, and to express appreciation of the services of the late Dr. Seamon A. Knapp, the founder of the demonstration work and the boys' and girls' clubs in the south.

Prelates and clergy of the Anglican church in Canada will assemble in Winnipeg Saturday for the consecration of the venerable Archbishop Robins as bishop of the diocese of Athabasca. The diocese lies in the great country to the far north of Edmonton, where the bishop will be obliged to travel hundreds of miles by canoe or wagon in making his round of the church missions.

Other news of the week will be furnished by the opening of the grand opera seasons in Chicago and Boston, the annual army-navy football game at Philadelphia, the inauguration of the international chess championship tournament in New York city, the fifteenth annual session of the American Mining congress at Spokane, and the opening of the International Live Stock exposition at Chicago.

ON VARIED THEMES.

A good many Morgan county farmers are feeling a little down hearted because the corn crop is not equalling expectations and the market price is considerably lower than has been true for several years. The price offered by elevators now is 35c and the figure has been as low as 36c. However, little or no corn has been sold by farmers to the elevators as practically all farmers feel that the price will be at least a little higher. A number of sales have been made to feeders at 40c a bushel in the crib. The opinion seems to hold that a little later prices will advance here and elsewhere. The men who are predicting this increase base their belief upon the fact that corn yields are by no means equalling the figures given in the government crop report and forecast a week or two since. These men call attention to the fact that government reports are based upon figures sent from different corn growing localities the country over. A preliminary estimate of the corn crop of Morgan county would have been twenty-five per cent higher than the corn is turning out. There is no reason for believing that this is a local condition and if the shortage is the same, or approximately so, in other localities the immense total figured by the government experts will be several million bushels short and prices will probably go up when such facts are made known. Immediately following the issuing of the government report a few weeks since the price of corn and other crops had a decided decline.

A good many people who read the story published in the Journal recently concerning some wealth alleged to be buried somewhere in Jacksonville no doubt thought that the writer was giving play to his imagination. Treasure may or may not be hidden away beneath the soil at some point here in Jacksonville but this much is certain that for years there has been handed down the story that long ago robbers who were making their escape after looting a bank in either Alton or St. Louis were pressed so closely by pursuers that part at least of their money was buried in Jacksonville. The story so often circulated was to the effect that the money was buried on the Cassell property on South Mauvasterre street where Wolke's garage now stands. Jerry Sweeney, merchants policeman, who has been following his beat around the square, or at least the south half of the square and the territory adjoining it, these many years, remembers well about fifteen years ago when in the early morning hours on several occasions he came upon a man with some engineering instruments trying to locate the long talked of treasure. He worked with instruments several mornings and made some excavations but so far as recorded never found any of the gold or silver supposed to be hidden away.

That the story, however, will not blow, was proven just a week or two ago when Mr. Sweeney found an old man loitering in the alley near the Wolke garage and after conversation with him found that the visitor, not a resident of Jacksonville, was looking about for the spot where the alleged treasure might be hidden. The old man had heard the story years ago and had the supposed location of the booty fixed in his mind so far as the property was concerned. After running it over in his mind so many times he couldn't get away from the idea that the treasure was within finding distance and that he was not awake to his opportunities if he made no effort to gather in the needed wealth.

The city commissioners it is understood are now working upon a proposition for the rebuilding of the light plant or rather for the proposition to be submitted to the people for the issuance of bonds to pay the costs of this improvement. The matter has been figured upon at several times during recent years and the commissioners are using some data collected in the past in making their present plans and estimates. While no direct information has been given out upon the subject it is understood that an issue of bonds for $50,000 will be asked. This sum would be sufficient for a complete rebuilding of the plant and for a change in the lighting system. As everybody pretty well knows by this time the city plant is not only out of date but a great deal of the machinery is practically worn out. In addition to this fact the plant is carrying more lamps than its capacity. Nearly all of the lamps are old, and worn, and taking all these things into consideration the commissioners have a hard time in endeavoring to have all Jacksonville well lighted. In fact it can not be done with the present equipment. Some of the commissioners are said to favor a boulevard lighting system which has been adopted in a number of cities. In several instances where this plan is used the city furnishes lamps for all the business districts and within two blocks of the business district in all directions. Beyond this district the property owners pay the first cost of the equipment and then the city furnishes the power and pays all costs of maintenance. In a number of cities under this plan boulevard lamps are located one hundred feet apart on all streets.

One question the city officials had to consider is whether or not power could be secured from the company which is just erecting the enormous plant at Keokuk, at a lower rate than it could be produced at home. Thus far the commissioners have been unable to secure any data of value on this subject. Every little while some citizen comes to the commissioners and suggests that the city go out of the lighting business altogether and buy its light from some private corporation. This idea however is not popular in Jacksonville and it is doubtful that even if it could be shown that the city could dispose of its plant and buy light cheaper than it now produces it that many people would favor disposing of the municipal plant. Certain it is that there has been a great deal of movement among light companies in this section of Illinois and in Missouri, during recent months. A great number of light plants in smaller towns and cities have been sold, usually at a good profit, to the owners, and it looks as if some big syndicate is buying up the down state plants.

The goods roads movement which the Illinois Valley Improvement association recently organized is aiding is worthy of the support of all citizens in this section. The primary object of the association is of course to use all possible influence to have the proposed state stone highway from Chicago to St. Louis routed from Springfield to this city and then south through White Hall, Jerseyville, Alton and the intervening towns or cities. However, the work of the association is to be by no means limited to this proposed highway and whether or not the highway is routed via Jacksonville it can accomplish much. It is proposed to organize a good roads club here in Jacksonville and Morgan county and Mayor Davis will call a mass meeting at an early date to discuss the matter and to take the necessary steps for forming such an organization. Every business man, and in fact every resident in Jacksonville is directly interested in the good roads problem. Figures showing the cost of bad roads are startling and there can be no question out that a wide spread good roads movement will do much toward solving the often talked of high cost of living. Just from a mere local standpoint if roads leading into Jacksonville, were good and passable at all times of the year instead of being in bad shape for several months out of every twelve, business of all kinds would feel the benefit and impetus.

Instances that Jacksonville is a mighty good place to patronize frequently come to light. Shoppers from outside of Jacksonville, who come here for the first time, are nearly always surprised at the number of our stores and the extensiveness of the stocks carried. The stores here in the matter of size and in quantity and quality of goods offered, excel many larger cities. Just the other day a lady came to Jacksonville who had looked all through the ready-to-wear stores of Quincy trying to find the kind of suit that she wanted. She was here in Jacksonville for a visit and as she knew little about Jacksonville stores hardly thought it worth while looking here, as she knew that Jacksonville is not so large as Quincy. Her pleasure and surprise therefore were both great after she had gone into a store here and with a very little time found exactly what she was looking for in color, quality and style. This shopper testified that the offerings here are far greater than in some larger cities.

The Jacksonville Business Men's association, or to be more exact, the new Chamber of Commerce, now has a membership of 325. It is the largest business organization Jacksonville ever had—and it should therefore do the largest good for Jacksonville. Membership in the Chamber of Commerce, however, is not all that merchants owe the organization. The mere fee paid by members will accomplish little unless those members lend their active influence and support to the organization. A body of more than 300 men working along definite lines and striving to accomplish definite things can do much. Just a hand full of men out of such an organization working can do little. At some early date no doubt the various officials and committees will be chosen and then it remains for each member to do his part in any work proposed. It should not be supposed, however, that the new organization is going to transform Jacksonville into a great industrial center in a few months time. Jacksonville can be developed industrially by a united and earnest effort, but it can not be done in a few weeks or months.

To get industrial development does not mean the paying of great prices to outside corporations to come here and locate. It means the fostering of enterprises which are already here and the encouraging of people who have money and who are now sending it away and investing elsewhere, to inaugurate and develop enterprises here. Jacksonville has no fuel advantages over a great many other cities. Its railroad facilities, however, are excellent and it is situated in the heart of the richest farming country that lies out of doors. And while we are talking about industrial enterprises we must remember that although our schools and colleges can not be classed exactly as industries in the ordinary acceptance of that term, that nevertheless they constitute an important business asset. Just for example last year the Woman's College paid out in Jacksonville 17,706.47 for meat, poultry, milk, butter, eggs and groceries. There are 24 people on the faculty pay roll and 54 others on the general pay roll.

Captain Wendell of the Harvard eleven, who has been out of the game on account of injuries, expects to be able to play in the Yale game.

Captain Pendleton and "Hobey" Baker of the Princeton Tigers, are having a close contest as to which can kick the most goals after touchdowns.

Penn State is said by Philadelphia experts to be the best football team in the country, with only the possible exception of Harvard and Yale.

Harvard has an advantage over Yale this year in that its team has been practically intact for six or seven weeks, while Yale has been making more than the usual number of shifts.

A JOKE ON A LAWYER

A few mornings ago, a prominent lawyer and doctor happened to meet on their way down town. It was somewhat chilly and both were attired in nice new overcoats. After greetings had been passed, the lawyer casually remarked: "Well, Doc, that certainly is a dandy coat you have there, but I see you still stick to the high priced tailor for your clothes, that looks fine and is unquestionably worth what you paid for it, but what do you think I paid for mine?"

"Oh, I suppose about thirty dollars," answered the doctor.

"Well," replied the lawyer, "if you'll keep a secret, I'll tell you something." "I happened to be going by—a week ago and dropped in just out of curiosity—the idea of buying was the last thing I had in mind. Doc, I never saw such values in my life, they had over 500 patterns, and—this overcoat is the answer. No more high priced clothes for me when I can get a good fit and a coat like this for what I paid. Why, I can have two over coats or suits while you have one. Why don't you lay aside your prejudice against the price and go down and merely take a look at at their patterns, you don't have to buy if you don't like the goods?"

"O, I don't need anything just now," answered the doctor, hiding a smile

The lawyer turned off at the next corner and the doctor went chuckling up the street.

Here's the joke. He, too, had on one of the Jacksonville Tailoring Co.'s Twenty Dollar Overcoats.

MAROONS COP SECOND HONORS

DEFEAT GOPHERS IN RACE FOR SECOND PLACE IN "BIG NINE".

Minnesota Has No Chance to Score and is Out-Played and Out-Kicked Throughout Game—Final Score 7 to 0.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Second place honors in the "Big Nine" football championship race belong to the University of Chicago. In one of the fiercest and most desperately fought games played on Marshall Field in years, Chicago won the honors by defeating the University of Minnesota today 7 to 0. Minnesota never had a chance to score. Chicago outplayed and out-kicked its foe in every particular. Victory for Chicago came in the third period after the teams had struggled through two quarters with honors even. A forward pass, Norgren to Huntington, paved the way. Norgren hurled the ball for a 30 yard gain, and on the next play Gray shot around right end for five yards more, placing the ball on Minnesota's 17 yard line. On a series of line plunges, Chicago advanced the ball steadily for several gains until within three yards of Minnesota's goal. Gray ripped per through guard for a two yard gain and then went over for a touchdown on the next play skirting right end. Lawler booted the ball squarely between the goal posts. Straight football won for Chicago. Neither team attempted more than a few trick plays. When forward passes were attempted the ball usually went wide of its mark. Norgren and Gray played a brilliant game for Chicago while McAlmon and Bierman were the most consistent ground-gainers for Minnesota. In punting Norgren outvalued Shaughnessy by a wide margin. Norgren frequently booted the ball from twenty to thirty yards further than his opponent.

WISCONSIN VICTOR OVER IOWA 28 TO 10

Forward Pass Scores For Badgers and Defeats Iowa—Wisconsin Scores Two Touchdowns in First Quarter.

Iowa City, Iowa, Nov. 23.—Successful use of the forward pass enabled the University of Wisconsin to defeat Iowa University, 28 to 10, here today. The visitors started strong scoring two touchdowns in the first period and kicking goal after each.

In the second period there was no scoring but in the third period a forward pass, Gillette to Ostlie, scored Wisconsin's third touchdown while in the last period the forward pass again was good for a touchdown. Iowa's score came in the fourth period. McGinnis carried the ball over and a few minutes later Parsons kicked goal from the field. The game ended a few minutes later.

Wisconsin won the toss and chose the north goal with a strong wind in their favor. After a few rushes, Gillette broke away for a 45-yard run and Wisconsin repeatedly pierced Iowa's right guard for gains. Following a steady advance Van Ripper carried the ball over for the first touchdown. Wisconsin kicked goal. Iowa kicked off in the face of a gale.

Van Ripper was injured, but continued to play. Two forward passes took the ball to the middle of the field, where Gillette went around right end for a 50-yard run and a touchdown. He also kicked goal. The period ended, Wisconsin 14, Iowa 0.

In the second period Wisconsin was penalized to the 15-yard line after a long run by Gillette. Iowa intercepted a forward pass with a back, McGinnis gaining six yards. Parsons returned the kickoff to the 35-yard line. Parsons gained 20 yards. It was Wisconsin's ball on an incomplete forward pass. Tangberg gained 30 yards around right end. Gillette lost 40 yards. An exchange of punts followed. Van Ripper gained 30 yards around left end. Wisconsin was penalized 15 yards. Gillette gained 18 yards around right end. Wisconsin lost the ball on their downs on their 28-yard line. Iowa punted but Wisconsin fumbled. In the fourth quarter, on a shoestring forward pass, Kirk to Dick, Iowa went 37-yards to the one-foot line. McGinnis went over for a touchdown. Iowa kicked goal.

Missouri Loses Hard Game.
Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 23.—Missouri university's football team lost to Kansas 12 to 3 here today in a game that was hard fought all the way. Speedy shift plays by the Kansas team baffled their opponents early in the game. The local team took the lead by making the only touchdown of the contest in the second quarter, and was able to hold it despite a fierce rally by the Missourians in the second half.

Missouri made the first score early in the opening period when Shepherd sent over a perfect drop kick from the 45-yard line. Kansas tied this in the second period with an equally difficult field goal by Weidline. The tie seemed to nerve the Kansas team and they started a series of line plunges straight to Missouri's goal. The hammering of Stuewe, Coolidge and Detwiler shattered Missouri's line and Wilson carried the ball over for a touchdown. Weidline's boot failed him in kicking the goal. Weidline made his second field goal the last of the game in the third period. In the last period Missouri gave the Kansas team a scare with two successful forward passes and smooth 40-yard end run by Knobel. Knobel repeatedly made heavy end gains in this period but Missouri was pushed back until Weidline made another attempt at field goal. This failed. The game ended with the ball in Missouri territory.

Drake, 3; Ames, 23.
Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 23.—Fighting desperately but outplayed, the Drake football team went down before Ames here today, 23 to 3.

The score is the largest margin between the two schools in eight years.

Brilliant work on the part of the quarterback, Hurst, who brought the crowd to its feet time and again with brilliant runs and the steady plugging of Halfback Weyrach, made the score possible. Once Hurst caught a bounding punt and raced and twisted eighty yards through the entire Drake line for a touchdown. Drake's only score was a drop-kick early in the second half.

Army, 23; Syracuse, 7.
West Point, N. Y., Nov. 23.—The army defeated Syracuse here today in an easy fashion winning by a score of 23 to 7. The Soldiers played the best football they have yet shown and but for Taupier's muffed Castle's long punt in the last minute of play, Syracuse would not have scored. The ball rolled over the army goal line and Barber fell on it. Castle kicked the goal.

ILLINI BLANKED BY NORTHWESTERN

STATE UNIVERSITY UNABLE TO SCORE AND LOSES, 6 TO 0.

Northwestern University Aggregation Proves Too Much For the Orange and Blue and Score Touchdown in First Quarter.

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 23.—The Northwestern University football eleven today defeated the University of Illinois aggregation in the final game of the season here, 6 to 0. Both teams were about evenly matched and each struggled furiously to score. The Northwestern team scored in the initial period. After an exchange of punts following the kick-off, Hightower was sent around the left end for the only score of the game. After the first period Northwestern held Illinois safe, but was unable to score.

Captain Johnson kicked off for Northwestern and after an interchange of punts Northwestern got the ball on Illinois' 45-yard line. Fish punted to Illinois' 25-yard line, where Woolston fumbled. Two line plays resulted in ten-yards gain and Hightower went around left end for a touchdown. Johnson's kick failed.

Second period—After Fish kicked out of bounds in the second period, Illinois braced itself. Lowe, Dillon and Woolston made repeated gains through the line. Northwestern was forced to punt eight times in the last few minutes of play. Illinois advanced steadily on three successive passes to Northwestern's 30-yard line where a forward pass was intercepted by Northwestern. The quarter ended with the ball in Northwestern's possession on their own 40-yard line.

Third period—The Illinois players took the field filled with determination. They played desperately, shoving Dillon and Rowe for big gains through the Northwestern line. Northwestern whenever they got hold of the ball, played on the safe side, by punting continually. Toward the close of the period Illinois played with lightning speed and this in the second period Northwestern worked the ball to the Northwestern one-yard line, when time was called.

Mather was ruled out of the game for his action in kicking one of the Northwestern players.

Final—Northwestern played on the defensive throughout the last quarter. Illinois showed class and proved to be superior in line plunging. Shortly after the opening of the period Northwestern got the ball on their own one-yard line and had to punt out of danger. Illinois soon worked the ball back to the 20-yard line. The game ended without either team scoring.

Nebraska, 13; Oklahoma, 9.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 23.—It was a different team that faced Oklahoma university here today from that which met Kansas last week. The Corn Huskers battled like fiends and only the superior work of the Oklahoma eleven in the use of the forward pass enabled them to get within striking distance of the Nebraska goal. Nebraska's team was able to tear through the Oklahoma's forwards at will, and the star work of the Nebraska backs were responsible for the 13 to 9 defeat which Nebraska administered to the Oklahomans.

Take a piece of writing paper about three inches square and with a lead pencil, the point of which has been dipped in water, draw a circle, a square, a triangle or any other geometrical figure. Put the paper carefully on a pan of water, letting it float and leaving the surface dry. Carefully drop water on the surface of the paper until the space within the figure is filled. The moistened pencil lines will keep it from flowing outside the figure. Now place the point of a pin over some point in the figure near the edge. The pin point must penetrate the surface of the water, but must not touch the paper. At once the paper will float around until the pin points directly to the center of the figure. See if you can find out why it does this.

Rats and Water.
Government experiments show that rats can live an indefinite time without water. Three of the animals were put on a diet consisting of bread, meat and cheese, but no water, and all were alive and well sixty days after the experiment was begun. On the fifteenth day one was given an opportunity to drink, but made no attempt to do so. When kept without food, but with water, one rat lived three days, and of six rats deprived of both food and water all died within periods ranging from two to five days.—Chicago News.

BAZAARS OF CAIRO.

The Curious Tiny Shops and the Narrow, Swarming Streets.

The bazaars of Cairo are very interesting. The streets are exceedingly narrow, and the stores of the merchants are often no larger than a good sized cupboard, without doors, but with shelves on which the goods are displayed. The merchants squat down on a little platform in front. You see here the workers in gold and silver, weavers of silk fabrics and slipper makers, doing their work in the same way it was done hundreds of years ago. The oldest bazaar is that of the scentmakers. They have a whole street to themselves, and when you get within a hundred yards or so the only guide you need is your nose.

These narrow streets are crowded with a ceaseless throng of natives: women with veiled faces; men, women and children on donkeys; curious flat carts drawn by donkeys, on which squat women enshrouded in black—nothing visible but one eye, and occasionally along comes a great lumbering camel, quite as large as half a dozen of the native shops. Calmly drive past with stolid indifference to life and limb, and rather than get hurt you crowd yourself into a bunch of natives, at the risk of having your pocket picked or being covered with vermin.—Christian Herald.

OUR-BIG REPUBLIC.

It's Quite a Way From Maine to the Aleutian Islands.

On the British empire the sun never sets. In the short summer nights it never sets on the American republic. San Francisco is the middle city in our territory. It is literally true that in August the sunset has not ceased to flash on the spears of the fishermen in the Aleutian Islands before it begins to glint and blaze on the axes of the woodsmen in the forests of Maine.

Roll up the map of New England! Unroll that of your whole country! How large is Texas? You could bury in it the German empire and have room enough left for England and Wales. How large is California? You could bury in it England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and have room enough left for Switzerland and Belgium.

How large is Colorado? You could bury in it Norway and have room enough left for Denmark. How large is Iowa? You could bury in it Portugal and Switzerland. How large is Lake Superior? You could sink Scotland in it. How large is New York? You could bury in it Belgium and Switzerland and Greece.—Joseph Cook.

Her Property.

Now and again things happen on the football field which go to add to the gaiety of the nation. On one occasion, for instance, during a certain league match in the north, the referee somehow managed to lose his whistle. There was not another whistle to be found, and it seemed that the game would have to come to a sudden and inglorious end, until the referee hit upon an ingenious scheme. He produced a latchkey from his pocket and managed to tootle merrily enough on it till suddenly, as he approached the touch line a woman's shrill voice was heard exclaiming:

"Fred, come here at once. Where did you get that latchkey?"

As he listened to the guffaw which went up from the assembled crowd that referee was the most sheepish looking man on the ground, and as he thought of the curtain lecture looming ahead his heart became like lead within his bosom.—London Answers.
